“ All of you, Mike, Sylvia, Jodi and Kela, lived across the street from me in Quailwood Meadows, while your house was being built. My house, across the street from you in Quailwood Meadows, wasn't built yet. I came down every evening to see what the construction workers had gotten done on my house that day. I think Jodi was the first to say Hi and be friendly. I remember we walked "the loop" which was a mile, almost every night. That was the fall of 2005, and it was such a happy time for all of us. We were all waiting for our houses to be ready. I think Kela was only three years old then, and she was already singing.

When my house was ready and I did move in, Jodi, Sylvia and Kela all helped unpack boxes and put them in cupboards. And Mike put together my couch that had been taken apart to get it into the moving truck. I am still thankful! You are definitely a family that helps people.

Not many people can cut and feather my hair just right, but Jodi could. I think she loved each of us whose hair she cut. She surely gave out tender loving care!

There is no sickness in Heaven, so I believe she was met at the gates by Jesus, who gave her a long hug that healed her. Then He said, "Look who else is here to meet you," and there with joy, hugs and smiles were Grandma and Grandpa and others who love her. Oh, every dog she loved that went to Heaven ahead of her was there too, waiting to be petted and talked too. She's healthy now, so she is running through meadows with her dogs. She's exploring Heaven, and there are endless new surprises. There are a lot of horses in Heaven, because someday when Jesus returns, the armies of heaven will be riding behind him on white horses. The armies of heaven are angels and believers who have gone to Heaven. Just think, she's galloping on horses with angels! What else can you imagine? Add to this, because 1 Corinthians 2:9 says whatever you can imagine about Heaven, it is better than that!
