“ Leanna will be sorely missed in this neighborhood. Everyone knew her and had good things to say about her. It seemed she was always in her yard, making it more beautiful. Whether she was planting, trimming or vacuuming she kept the front and back yards good enough to in Better Homes and Gardens.

We used to have long talks and she was always interesting and interested in what you had to say. I'll miss our talks and the kids will miss "that nice lady next door".

In Native American culture they say that a person does not die when their body gives out but rather when the last person who remembers them - forgets them. Leanna will live in our hearts forever.
