“ Almost every day I think I want to call Mary and tell her this or that about what is happening or a memory of our lives. Then It comes to me I can't do that anymore. I miss my SISTER - My heart is SAD.

“ Although I never met this precious soul, the stories told by Richard and Don have painted a picture of a beautiful, loving lady. Her son is a testament to good parenting and he made her very proud. Our sincere condolences as you figure out a new normal without her. The guidance she and Frank left you with will be with you to see you along your way.
