“ I met Ralph about 10 years ago and adired him right away. We had fun with a few things I sold for him. One was his Maserati I sold on line sight unseen to a man in Florida and various other fun things. It was an honor to know him. RIP old friend, leave them coyotes alone now!

“ I am sorry that Ralph is not with us now. But I am happy, that I had the pleasure of knowing him even to a limited degree. Many days will be spent in the future thinking about Ralph, and the stories he would tell me, and the guidance he would give about firearms. He loved his life, and he will be sorely missed for some time to come. God Speed.

“ I like to think that Ralph is in a beautiful place roaming the hills and taking in all the wild life he loves so much. I was with him a number of times when we did just that - it was in the spring and the desert was in bloom - it was beautiful. I too enjoy just looking and roaming - the Arizona desert has given me much joy and many surprises in my life.It was an honor sharing the life I love with Ralph.
